FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SMITHSONIAN CHANNEL™ TO REBROADCAST CBS NEWS' TOP-RATED “CBS SUNDAY MORNING WITH CHARLES OSGOOD”

Smithsonian Channel Re-Broadcasts Begin Sunday, September 28 at 2pm ET

New York, September 25, 2014 – Smithsonian Channel will present encore telecasts of CBS SUNDAY MORNING WITH CHARLES OSGOOD starting Sunday, Sept. 28, 2014, it was announced today by Tom Hayden, President of Smithsonian Channel, and David Rhodes, President of CBS News.

Under the new arrangement, Smithsonian Channel, owned by Showtime Networks, Inc. and the Smithsonian Institution, will rebroadcast CBS News' CBS SUNDAY MORNING, each Sunday at 2 PM ET, after the program has cleared broadcast on CBS affiliates. Smithsonian Channel will also rebroadcast CBS SUNDAY MORNING up to four times later in the week.

“It is an honor to bring one of the finest and most respected programs on all of television, CBS SUNDAY MORNING, to Smithsonian Channel,” said Hayden. “In this era of the rapid-fire and never-ending news cycle, SUNDAY MORNING continues to be a home for remarkable storytelling, and that’s something our loyal viewers can no doubt appreciate.”

“CBS SUNDAY MORNING sets the standard for morning news programs—we’re so proud of the work of Charles Osgood, Rand Morrison, and everyone associated with the broadcast,” said Rhodes. “This is a great opportunity for CBS News to put our original reporting in front of new audiences on quality platforms like Smithsonian Channel.”
Now in its 35th year, CBS SUNDAY MORNING, is the top-rated Sunday morning news program in all the key demos, and is seen by an estimated six million viewers each week. The program features stories on the arts, music, nature, entertainment, sports, history, science, Americana and highlights unique human accomplishments and achievements. Charles Osgood is the anchor of CBS SUNDAY MORNING. Rand Morrison is the Executive Producer.
